Educator Workshops

- Free Valuable Handouts, Resources, Materials and more
- Certificate for two clock hours of Professional Development
- Time to browse, shop and mingle with colleagues

Presented by Educational and Librarian Specialist Denice Baldetti, GBS is pleased to offer a year long calendar of exciting Educator workshops! Valuable handouts, curriculum practical application, exciting resources, goodies, news, and more! Time to browse and mingle with colleagues as well. Each workshop is eligible for a minimum of two clock hours of Professional Development!

Upcoming Workshop Dates for 2009-2010 School Year:

Oct. 3- "Reading Connections 2010 - Grand Canyon Reader Awards"

Unique ways to connect the 2010 Grand Canyon Reader Award books to the curriculum and to life experiences. Picture, nonfiction, intermediate, tween titles. Workshop will focus on activities and crafts that can be used with selected titles.

ALL WORKSHOPS ARE FROM 10AM-12:30PM
There is no charge but you MUST reserve your seat - and space will be limited.

Nov. 7 - "Homes For Poems: Making Poetic Books"

Hook students onto poetry as we slide across and beyond curricular boundaries with poetic forms of book making!

Jan. 23 - "In Pursuit of Storytelling"

A look at the art form of storytelling: How to tell a story, telling a story, and finding stories to tell. Hands on activities include flannel board activities and prop ideas.

Feb. 27 - "Get Artsy! Get Crafty!"

March is National Craft Month. Prepare ahead and learn about artists, book connections and, of course, some hands on activities to celebrate the excitement that crafting offers young and old alike!

April 24 - "Sharing History Through Picture Books"

Discover the power of picture books to reveal behind the scenes snippets of history and the people intertwined with historical events.

May 15 - " Books & Brain Games "

Expand your memory, creative thinking, reasoning skills, and more. Link books and literature to activities that will keep your brain revved and your mind sharp over the summer!

Space is limited - you must reserve a seat! Call 602.863.6000.
